6 Receiving mail with the PickPost or My Post 24 services

At Swiss Post access points such as branches and My Post Service points, the PickPost service is available for the collection of directly addressed consignments. The My Post 24 service is available for the collection of directly addressed consignments at My Post terminals. For details, see: www.swisspost.ch/access-points.

6.1 Definition of a directly addressed PickPost and My Post 24 consignment

All parcels up to 30 kg with a consignment number and registered letters (R letters), trackable small goods and international consignments can be addressed to an access point offering the PickPost or My Post 24 services and collected from there. Courier and Express consignments (with the exception of Swiss-Express "Moon"), SameDay consignments and debt collection and court documents are not permitted PickPost and My Post 24 consignments. Letter mail consignments that are not permitted (such as personal delivery/RMP, letters with contract signing or proof of identity, R letters with the value-added services "Personal delivery" or "Return receipt", Dispomail consignments, letter mail consignments without a barcode that do not contain goods and unregistered letter mail) will be forwarded to the domicile address. Consignments incorrectly addressed to PickPost and My Post 24 are returned to the sender's address without informing the customer, at the expense of the sender. Bulky goods and Dispoboxes (DX value-added service) cannot be delivered to or posted at My Post 24 terminals.

This service is offered by Swiss Post. Consignments from other postal companies cannot currently be delivered to or posted at an access point offering the PickPost or My Post 24 services.

- 6.2 PickPost: collecting a consignment
For each consignment to be collected, the Customer is notified by e-mail and/or SMS. When collecting the consignment, the Customer must present the consignment number and a valid form of ID (passport, identity card, Swiss driver's licence (not a provisional licence), valid residency permit (foreigners' residence permit)). For Swiss Post access points (such as its own branches or those operated with partners) offering the PickPost service that have access to Swiss Post's electronic power of attorney directory, registered authorized representatives can collect the consignment on behalf of the recipient. Family members with the same last name are also permitted to collect items, provided that they show a valid official identification document. Exceptions are instructions from the sender that prohibit release to third parties (e.g. consignments with the value-added service "Personal delivery"). The Customer cannot be represented by a third party at any other My Post Service access points (access points with partners as external collection points).
- It is the responsibility of the Customer to ensure that the consignment information for collection of a consignment is not accessible to third parties.
- 6.3 My Post 24: collecting a consignment
For each consignment to be collected, the Customer is notified by SMS/MMS, and optionally also by e-mail. With the collection code (QR code) or collection link (depending on the type of terminal) contained in this, the consignment (parcel) can be released from the terminal within the specified time limit (10 days). For trackable letters (R letters or small goods consignments etc.), the collection period is seven days and for international consignments (parcels and letters) it is normally 15 days.
- No other identification features are required for the receipt of a consignment. It is the responsibility of the Customer to ensure that the collection code/link received is not accessible to third parties.
- The customer confirms receipt of directly addressed, registered letters (R letters) and parcels with the "Signature" value-added service by signing on the display of the My Post 24 terminal or via the Post-App.
- In the event of unavailable locker sizes or faults on the terminal, the consignment will be forwarded to the next branch or branch with partner. A delivery to the requested My Post 24 location cannot be guaranteed.
- In special cases, a notification for collection sent to the domicile address may specify that the consignment is to be collected at a My Post 24 terminal rather than a Swiss Post branch. This collection note may be sent in paper format or electronically. The details and identification features are stated on the collection note or via the Post-App. Registration in the "My Post" customer portal is only necessary for electronic use. Registering in the "My Post" customer portal provides access to a wide range of online services related to consignment management.
- After the specified collection period or in the event that acceptance is refused, the relevant provisions of the GTC "Postal Services" for Private Customers and Business Customers apply.
- The legal effects of a delivery are assessed regardless of the postal service, in accordance with the statutory provisions. Swiss Post disclaims all liability regarding the start date or compliance with legal time limits, as far as admissible by law.
- Completed registration in the "My Post" customer portal is always required for the use of My Post 24 terminals or services relating to the terminals or the My Post 24 service.
- 7 Sending mail to a Swiss Post access point offering the PickPost or My Post 24 services
You can find details of range of services offered at branches, My Post Service points and terminals at www.swisspost.ch/access-points.

- The available shipment services for My Post 24 are based on the services shown on the My Post 24 terminals or what is displayed in the Post-App. Labels purchased at terminals (including franking) for the mailing of parcels or registered letters are valid for 30 days from the date of purchase, may not be copied or cut and may only be posted at My Post 24 terminals, not at Swiss Post branches.
