REGARDING WIFI IN BRANCHES

GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Object and scope
   These General Terms and Conditions (GTC) of Post CH Ltd (Wankdorfallee 4, 3030 Berne, Switzerland; hereinafter: Swiss Post) govern use by the customer of the WiFi service.

2. Service
   In selected branches, Swiss Post provides customers with a WiFi-capable end device and access to the Internet within the scope of technical, operational and economic feasibility. Swiss Post cannot guarantee any level of data transmission quality or failure-free operation through provision of this service. The customer has no claim to the provision of the WiFi service in any specific branch. Swiss Post is entitled to suspend certain services/websites at any time.

3. Costs
   The WiFi service is provided free of charge.

4. Customer duties and obligations
   Use of the Internet services is the customer’s responsibility. The customer is solely responsible for the security of their end device (the device by which they use the WiFi network). The customer is obliged to use these services of Swiss Post in a proper and lawful manner. The customer is also under an obligation to ensure that the network infrastructure does not become overloaded through excessive use. The customer is explicitly forbidden from misusing this Internet access, or allowing it to be misused, or using said services to commit unlawful or criminal acts. Should content or links/hyperlinks to third-party content violate statutory provisions or official directives – particularly with respect to content or designs that are pornographic, racist or glorify violence – Swiss Post is entitled to suspend Internet access or undertake any immediate technical measures that are necessary for ensuring fault-free network operation. The customer assumes responsibility for their content. The customer is forbidden from sending unsolicited mass advertising via the WiFi service. Should the customer violate this obligation, Swiss Post is entitled to charge the customer for all costs arising from incorrect fault reports or improper use of the installed facilities/object of the agreement.

5. Registration
   The customer must register in order to use the WiFi service. The system requires the customer to enter contact information (first name, last name, mobile number). Swiss Post reserves the right to require re-registration by some or all customers at any time.

6. Availability and service interruptions
   Swiss Post endeavours to ensure maximum uninterrupted WiFi availability. However, it does not guarantee an uninterrupted service, service at a certain time or the completeness, authenticity and integrity of the stored data or the data sent via its system or the Internet. Swiss Post will keep short all interruptions necessary to rectify disruptions, implement maintenance windows or introduce new technologies, etc. and will carry them out during quiet times whenever possible.

7. Liability
   Swiss Post does not accept liability – to the extent permitted by law – for direct, indirect or consequential damage such as loss of profit, loss of data or damage as a result of downloads. Swiss Post does not accept liability for damage or loss caused by auxiliary personnel and third parties engaged by it (e.g. sub-contractors, suppliers, etc.) as a result of incidental or ordinary negligence. To the extent permitted by law, Swiss Post does not accept liability for damage or loss as a result of improper use of its services (in breach of contract or law). Claims in respect of product liability and personal injury remain reserved. Swiss Post does not accept liability to the extent that is permissible by law for losses arising from force majeure or disruptions occurring particularly due to lack of Internet connectivity, unlawful interventions in telecommunication devices and networks, overloading of the network, wilful blockage of electronic channels by third parties or interruptions.

Swiss Post only provides single access to the Internet via WiFi. Swiss Post does not assume any liability for the continual functionality of the Internet access, nor that the services for Internet access or other Internet services shall function without disruption or faults, nor for damage to hardware or software on the customer’s end device, nor for other material or further damages attributable to use of the hotspot. To the extent permitted by law, Swiss Post is not liable for the authenticity and integrity of the data that is stored or transmitted by means of their system or the Internet. Liability is also excluded for the accidental disclosure, damage, loss or deletion of data transmitted, received or stored insofar as this permitted by law. Swiss Post accepts no liability for loss or damage caused by third parties as a result of misuse of the connection (including viruses).

8. Data protection
   Swiss Post only provides single access to the Internet via WiFi. The customer acknowledges that Swiss Post is registered with the Federal Office of Communications as a telecommunication services provider and as such must comply with the statutory requirements of the Federal Act of 6 October 2000 on the Surveillance of Postal and Telecommunications Traffic, including its accompanying ordinance. Should the statutory requirements be met, Swiss Post may monitor usage of the Internet and data transmitted between the customer and the Internet, or commission monitoring from a third party. Swiss Post may also be under a further obligation to disclose contact data provided to the competent authority.

9. Security
Data traffic generated between the customer’s end device and the hotspot after logging in is transmitted in an unencrypted form. Data from the connection established between the end device and the hotspot may therefore be viewed by third parties. Data transmission within the WiFi network provided can only be secured through use of special security software by the customer – typically through a VPN – operated by the customer. Swiss Post provides no guarantee that use of the hotspot is secured against third-party access to customer data that is stored on the customer’s end device or transmitted within the context of their Internet use. The responsibility of ensuring security lies with the customer. Any customer claims for damages arising from the use of an unsecured connection are excluded insofar as the event causing damage has not been precipitated through intentional acts or negligent conduct on the part of Swiss Post. Use of the publicly available Internet is performed at the customer’s own risk. The customer is solely responsible for any damage to their hardware/software, data loss, or any other form of loss, which is attributable to use of the service insofar as the event causing the damage has been caused by intentional acts or grossly negligent conduct on the part of Swiss Post.

10. Involvement of third parties
The Customer agrees that Swiss Post may bring in third parties to provide the services and that any customer data necessary for the cooperation can be passed on. Swiss Post undertakes to select, instruct and monitor such service providers in a prudent manner.

11. Changes to the GTC
Swiss Post reserves the right to amend the GTC and range of services, or to cease services, at any time. The customer shall be provided with any amended GTC via e-mail or another appropriate manner, and they shall be published at www.swisspost.ch/gtc.

12. Severability clause
If individual provisions of these GTC prove to be invalid or unlawful, the validity of these GTC shall not be affected. The relevant provision shall be replaced by an effective provision that most closely approximates the economic intentions of the original provision. The German version of the GTC shall be authoritative in the event of uncertainties or translation errors.

13. Applicable law and place of jurisdiction
The contract is governed by Swiss law. To the extent permitted by law, the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CSG, SR 0.221.211.1) does not apply, nor, to the same extent, do the conflict of laws provisions of the Federal Act on International Private Law (IPRG, SR 291).

The place of jurisdiction is Berne. This is subject to the proviso of a partially or fully mandatory place of jurisdiction (cf. in particular Articles 32 and 3% of the Code of Civil Procedure for consumers). Unless otherwise agreed, Berne shall also be the place of performance and the place of debt collection for customers who are not resident in Switzerland.
