

Fundus Treuhand relies on IncaMail

Digital sending with real advantages

For recipients it is letters with valuable contents. Senders are thinking of costs and time, however, which is why IncaMail is predestined for safely sending confidential wage documents – like at Fundus Treuhand AG.

The challenge – to fulfil the customers' wishes

Sending monthly pay slips requires several steps – they have to be drawn up and printed out, checked, folded and put in an envelope. Only when they are handed over at the post office counter and the proof they have been sent is received is the responsible task complete. Fundus Treuhand AG, Zurich processes around 1000 pay slips on behalf of its clients. Since e-mail is very much accepted today both for business and private purposes and many employees would appreciate receiving their pay slips electronically, it made sense to switch to the secure and faster Post solution IncaMail.

If a pioneering company like Fundus encounters a customer among its clientele that wants to head in a new direction, the first step towards organisational change has already been taken. And since Fundus Treuhand AG always listens to what its customers want, the decision to use IncaMail was quickly taken.

The goal – to become a paper-free office with IncaMail

Fundus Treuhand has been looking to become a paper-free office for a long time. Documents are archived electronically with AbaScan, and later the system, which has evolved over time, will be switched entirely to AbaWebTreuhand. For the future Fundus wants a multi-client capable ABACUS solution which, as well as electronically sending wage documents, can also be used ideally for other applications such as accounts receivable accounting and the entire business correspondence. It is good to see this wish has already been fulfilled with the new version of ABACUS.

Best solution for fiduciaries

IncaMail is fully integrated in the ABACUS ERP system, which enables direct, smooth and secure dispatch of pay slips in PDF format. This means that as well as Fundus Treuhand staff, the employees of other clients also have their pay slips sent to their desired e-mail address. The trust company is looking to offer this electronic service to other customers.

Benefits for customers and employees

IncaMail is integrated in ABACUS without media disruption and is available without any additional modules. Although Fundus saves at least CHF 2.00 per wage document and also a lot of time, it is not the only one benefiting from IncaMail. The customers and their employees also have advantages from the electronic dispatch – they can access their pay slips anywhere in the world and at any time without media disruption.
